A PEACEFUL NURSERY

For this baby boy's nursery, Lara Michelle, owner of Lara Michelle Interiors Inc., was tasked with designing a calming room that still matched the feel of the rest of the home.

And she did just that: "I continued with the same contemporary style of furnishings that is in the rest of the house and the soft neutral tones of whites, silvers and grays, but added a touch of pale blue into the mix," she says. The room includes a custom-made (and super soft) silver rug, draperies in a pale blue linen with white border, and white furniture. "I especially love the draperies and acrylic poles—they really soften up and finish the room beautifully while looking so chic and modern at the same time," says Michelle, who designed the rest of the home as well. "I also love the acrylic ceiling fixture, which is so visually interesting and unique."
